UCAS

UCAS stands for Universities and Colleges Admissions Service and is the centralised service for students to apply to university. Below are some key terms you may come across.

	Key Terms
Tariff Points / UCAS Points	Tariff points (also called UCAS points) refers to the system of allocating points to different qualifications. Some universities will give entry requirements in tariff points e.g. 120 which is equivalent to BBB at A Level. Find out how many points you have or are predicted here www.ucas.com/ucas/tariff-calculator
Deferral	This is where you delay or carry an offer over to start in the following academic year. Students commonly do this if they wish to take a gap year.
Conditional Offer	This is where an offer of a place is made subject to conditions. To be accepted on the course, you'll need to meet the conditions – usually related to your exam results. This is the most common type of offer for students applying directly from further education.
Unconditional offer	This is where an offer of a place is made with no conditions.
UCAS Extra	Extra is a service you can use to apply for alternative places if you do not hold an offer from your first five choices.
Firm choice	This is an offer you accept as your first choice.
Insurance Choice	This is an offer you accept as your second choice – just in case you don't meet the conditions of your firm offer. It should have lower entry requirements than your firm choice.
Clearing	Clearing is another service you can use to look for alternative courses. If you didn't receive a place on a course – whether you didn't receive offers, declined your offers, or didn't get the grades you needed – clearing allows you to apply for courses that still have vacancies.
Adjustment	This is a service you can use to look for alternative courses. In cases where you've met and exceeded your conditions you can check to see if you could get on to a course with higher entry requirements– all while still holding your original confirmed place.

Plagiarism

UCAS checks every personal statement for plagiarism. Plagiarism is the practice of taking someone else's work or ideas and passing them off as your own. If your personal statement is found to be plagiarised this could result in your application being cancelled or prevent your being accepted to universities in the future.
